DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-9 in the reply filed on 08/08/05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2 and 4-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kim (USP 6359481).

As to claim 1, Kim discloses in figure 3 shows an apparatus for compensating for glitch occurrence reset signal that is applied in an integrated circuit, the apparatus comprising: a logic stage capable process an incoming signal (input) and a delayed incoming signal (ND) that delayed version of the incoming signal, the logic stage capable generate an output signal (output) so that when the incoming signal and delayed incoming signal are in the same state, the output signal will be in the same state.

As to claim 2, figure 3 shows that the logic stage comprises an S-R flip flop (G6, G8).

As to claim 4, figure 3 shows that the logic stage comprises a NAND gate (G2) capable to receive incoming signal and delayed incoming signal; and an OR gate (G4) capable to receive the incoming signal and the delayed incoming signal.

As to claim 5, figure 3 shows that the delayed incoming signal is delayed by a delay stage.

As to claim 6, figure 3 shows that the logic portion is capable at least first glitch occurring before a high state portion of the incoming signal and a second glitch occurring after the high state portion of the incoming signal.

Claims 7-9 recite similar limitations of claims above. Therefore, they are rejected for the same reasons.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim (USP 6359481).

Kim's figure 3 fails to show a NOR gate and an inverter connected in series to the NOR gate. However, it is notoriously well known in the art that OR gate is made by NOR gate connected in series to an inverter. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to use NOR gate connected in series to an inverter for Kim OR gate (G4) due to doctrine equivalent of function.
